

Greece: The Life Worth Living

Ancient Ethics in Athens

Hear it straight from Niners who walked the Acropolis, debated Socrates in the Agora, swam in the Mediterranean, and came home changed. Here's what they want you to know.

LIFE-CHANGING EXPERIENCES

"Say yes to everything! Step out of your comfort zone! Any major can do it and it's something you'll remember forever! You'll regret it if you don't do it!"

"We were a great group that kept the environment fun — the friendships we made along the way made the trip unforgettable."

Mariana C. '25

"I absolutely loved that the program had time for us to explore by ourselves. It really made me feel like I was figuring out how to navigate a foreign country on my own — a wonderful experience."

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

"Dr. Boisvert does an amazing job of making sure that every moment of the trip is wholesome, educational, and flexible. This was the most amazing education abroad experience ever!"

— Mandy W. '26

"Dr. B was incredible at judging what his students needed at any given time and reacting accordingly. He is a gem. I would not change a thing on this trip, and I feel honored to have been part of this group."

THE ACADEMICS — PHILOSOPHY COMES ALIVE

"This is an experience where you get to interact with sites and philosophy that helped define our humanity — it's about learning, not tourism, and getting genuinely lost in it."

Jonathan M. '26

"I loved the morning seminars and felt like I learned a ton. Hearing everyone's thoughts was really cool — I'd never done a seminar-style class before, and it was fascinating, especially on the topic of the life worth living."

Jacob L. '26

GREEK LANDSCAPE & CULTURE

"I would emphasize how beautiful Greece is to experience and explore! I will never be quiet about the Acropolis!"

Andrea F.L. '25

"What I found most valuable was being able to see the ancient ruins and learning about Greek history firsthand."
